

FUNdraising Ideas for the 2026 Campaign

There are many ways to engage your employees in supporting United Way of the Black Hills without asking for payroll deductions or individual pledges. From hosting a casual fundraiser to organizing a volunteer project or friendly office competition, these activities build teamwork, boost morale, and demonstrate your company's commitment to strengthening our community. Every effort, big or small, helps create lasting impact throughout the Black Hills.

Simple Ways to Engage Your Employees

Popcorn/Candy/Chip Sale

Sell popcorn, candy bars, cookies, or chips to employees for a donation to UWBH. Who can't resist the smell of fresh popcorn or a sweet or salty treat?

Bake Sale

Holding a bake sale doesn't need to be difficult. This traditional way of fundraising is one that everyone knows and loves.

50/50 Raffle

A successful 50/50 raffle generates revenue for a worthy non-profit and gives donors the chance to win some serious cash and half of the raised $'s are donated to UWBH.

Silent Auction/Employee Raffle

You can either use the passes below, donated items, or it could be a great opportunity for employees to bring in gently used items to sell.

Trade or Book Fair

Participants simply bring items or services to trade. You can either charge an admission fee or charge per item or service.

Cook off

Have a Chili or Biscuits & Gravy competition with the prize being a trophy & bragging rights. $ for each vote, or a fee to participate in the tasting.

Casual/Themed Dress Day

Disney themed or anything beginning with a letter of your choice; whatever your decision, a themed/casual dress day is one of the best corporate fundraising ideas. This would also be a great year round opportunity.

Paper Airplane Contest

Have a day where individuals build their airplanes and fly within a certain time frame. Winners could be most creative, best flying time, etc.
